

DICK TAKES OATH AS OHIO SENATOR

Simple Ceremony Today in Upper Chamber.

ESCORTED BY MR. FORAKER

New Recruit Takes Seat on Democratic Side Recently Vacated by Mr. Ball.

Senator Charles Dick of Ohio was today sworn into office in the Senate Chamber as the successor of the late Senator Hanna. He took the oath of office at 12:17 o'clock.

At 12:15 o'clock, after the usual order for the presentation of petitions had been concluded, Senator Foraker addressed the Chair. Standing in the main aisle, with General Dick in Senator Tillman's seat, Senator Foraker said:

"The Legislature of Ohio has elected the Hon. Charles Dick to succeed my late colleague, the Hon. Marcus A. Hanna. His credentials have been presented in the Senate and he is now present to take the oath of office."

Sworn Into Office.

President pro tem. Frye asked the new Senator to come to the rostrum to take the oath of office. Senator Foraker offered his arm to General Dick and escorted him there. The oath had been administered the President pro tem, congratulated the new Senator, who immediately signed the Senate register on the clerk's desk.

As the two Senators left the rostrum a large bunch of violets was presented to Senator Dick by one of the Senate pages. He kept this on his desk when all the other flowers sent to him had been removed from the Senate chamber.

Profusion of Flowers.

When the Senate assembled the desk of the Senator-elect was laden with flowers. There was a large basket of jacquemont roses, with a huge red bow on the handle; an armful of American Beauty roses, a bunch of Jonquils, a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums, a wreath of pink and white roses, and standing on the floor near by a horse-shoe five feet high, of roses, chrysanthemums and violets.

When Senator Dick reached his seat he was immediately greeted by Senators Dryden, Long, Ball, Nevins, and Foster of Louisiana, and Sergeant-at-Arms Ransdell. Other Senators came to his desk later to extend their congratulations.

New Senator's Location.

Senator Dick occupies seat No. 71, which is on the Democratic side, at the extreme right of the third row of seats. It is easy of access, both from the northwest corridor of the Senate wing and from the Senate chamber, but is not a location at all prized, because of its being beyond the usual scope of the presiding officer's eyes.

The new Senator's seat was formerly occupied by Senator Ball, of Delaware, until Senator Hanna's death. The late Ohioan's place on the Republican side had been pre-empted by Mr. Beveridge, who moved over from the Democratic side. His seat there, No. 18, was taken by Mr. Gibson, of Montana, who gave up the seat nearest the door to Mr. Ball.

The galleries were filled. Mrs. Dick and friends occupying seats in the private gallery. Other members of the House had taken seats in the Senate to witness the ceremony. There was no demonstration, though for the first time in the history of the Senate, the Senator-elect was handed a bunch of violets by a page after the ceremony had been finished.

GEN. DICK AT WHITE HOUSE.

General Charles Dick, the new Senator from Ohio, called at the White House last night by appointment. He and the President had a long conference over Ohio politics.

DEMOCRATIC BOOM FOR FITZHUGH LEE

Richmond Friends Mention
Him as Candidate.

GROSVENOR'S SUGGESTION

His Call to South to Come Forward and Take Place in Government Councils.

RICHMOND, Va., March 23.—Gen. Fitzhugh Lee's friends have launched a boom for him for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, which, it is believed, will certainly receive the warmest support in the South. This movement for General Lee is the direct result of the address delivered by Representative Grosvenor at Old Point Comfort Saturday night, when a banquet was given to members of Congress by the Jamestown Exposition Company.

General Grosvenor urged the South to come forward and take its place in the nation's councils. General Lee treaded the matter humorously when he was asked whether he had any Presidential aspirations.

"With the Jamestown Exposition and other weighty matters on my shoulders," he said, "I have no time to devote to such small affairs as running for the Presidency."

BOOM CLEVELAND FOR GOVERNOR

Democrats of New Jersey
May Name Him.

SENTIMENT GAINS STRENGTH

Politicians Surprised and Then Pleased
Without Respect to Party
Affiliations.

TRENTON, N. J., March 23.—"Grover Cleveland for Democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey," was a slogan that seemed to come from the air in the neighborhood of the State House, and was on the tongue of every Democratic member of the Legislature, and every Republican, too, for that matter, for all the politicians are deeply interested in this latest bit of political gossip concerning the "Sage of Princeton," who has said he does not want anything that will remove him from his pleasant home in the university town.

Democratic senators were at first surprised and then greatly pleased by the rumor. Many of them expressed themselves as of the opinion that Mr. Cleveland would not be averse to a gubernatorial campaign. The presence here late last night of former United States Senator James Smith, old-time leader of the New Jersey Democracy, is credited by many as being the source of this new Cleveland boom, although none would speak authoritatively on the subject.

GIRL OF 19 WOULD WED OCTOGENARIAN

THE OLD MAN IS WILLING

Declares That Mischief-Maker Separated Them, and Deferred Wedding
Was Not His Fault.

UTICA, N. Y., March 23.—Pretty, vivacious, and nineteen years of age, with many young men admirers, Miss Charlotte Armstrong, of this city, has had suit instituted to recover $5,000 damages from John M. Thurston, eighty-three years old.

The papers in the action set forth that on March 5, Mr. Thurston asked Miss Armstrong's hand in marriage. She consented and is now and ever since that day has been willing to have the ceremony performed.

Wedding Day Past.

The time for the wedding was fixed for March 7, the affidavit asserts, but Mr. Thurston refused to marry the girl, and he has ever since refused to keep the agreement.

"I love this young lady, and she seems to me to be like an angel," said Thurston. "I am ready and anxious to marry her, and will marry her at any time they will give me a chance. I have never refused to marry her and will not refuse to do so. You can say that I would be willing to die to marry her, but there has been mischief-making between us."

DUELS AND BEER AND A GOOD SONG

Beat Plain Living and High Thinking.

IN THE MODERN UNIVERSITY

Declares Prof. Meyer, of Berlin, to Students and Faculty of Chicago University.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Dr. Eduard Meyer, professor of law in the University of Berlin, and one of the savants in attendance at the convocation exercises at the University of Chicago, glorified at the beer stein and the dueling sword of old Heidelberg yesterday afternoon at a students' celebration in Mangel Hall, thereby jarring the Baptist tenets of Dr. Harper and his educational institution.

Tight in the faces of three hundred or four hundred meek girl collegians, theological students, and other attendants at the university, Dr. Meyer hurled his bacchanalian philosophy. He told them that he was for beer and fighting, for anarchism in the way of university laws and for almost anything that would help along a good time for the college boys.

A stein on the table and a good song, he intimated, were more to his idea of university life than the plain living and high thinking indulged in by the young men and women under Dr. Harper's guardianship.

HIGH ROCK SPRING HAS CHANGED HANDS

SARATOGA, N. Y., March 23.—The historic High Rock Spring, which has been transferred to William E. Barnes and Walter Scott Henry, first came into distinction in the Revolutionary war period, when the Indians carried Sir William Johnson on a litter to the spring for treatment.

According to local history, George Washington and a party of Virginians visited the High Rock and made an offer to buy the spring.
